AFFIDAVIT FOR WARRANT FOR ARREST

I Logan Clark, an officer with the Dubois County Sheriff's Department being first duly sworn upon his oath, states under the penalties of perjury, that he/she believes and has good cause to believe that on or about the 4th day of December, 20 20 at and in the County of Dubois, State of Indiana, the above named person committed the crime(s) of Burglary and Residential Entry in violation of I.C. 35-43-2-1, 35-43-2-1.5 and the affiant's beliefs are based on the following information, facts and circumstances, to-wit:

During the course of my duties, on above date at approximately 3:13pm, Deputies were dispatched to [REDACTED] (REDACTED) in Dubois County, for a male and female that had broken into the residence. The caller said that they had left the residence in a black passenger car headed east on State Road 56 towards French Lick. Upon arrival at the residence, I went to the back door, where I noticed a piece of what appeared to be the door frame laying on the concrete steps leading to the back door. I then went to the door and was met at the door by a female, later identified as [REDACTED] then showed me where the male subject had kicked in the door, and part of the door frame was indeed busted. Also part of the door trim had come completely off of the door frame.

I asked [REDACTED] what had happened. She told me that there was a loud knock on the back door. As she was making her way towards the back door from the living room, a male subject had forced entry into the residence. She said that he and a female then walked in and that the male had a baseball bat in his hands. She told me that the male subject asked her "where's [REDACTED]?". She said that he did not say anything else, but continued to search the residence room by room. She then said that both the male and female went back out the way they came in, and got in a long black car and headed towards French Lick. I asked [REDACTED] who [REDACTED] was and she told me that [REDACTED] was her grandson, and his full name is [REDACTED] [REDACTED] told me that the male subject was about 5'9" tall, had light brown hair, had a thin build, and had a scruffy beard. She also told me that the female was about 5'5" tall and had blonde hair and and a thin build. At this time, Deputy Lorey and myself headed east to attempt to locate any black passenger cars that might match the description given by [REDACTED]

A few minutes after I had initially left the residence, [REDACTED] called dispatch and advised them that she had a name of the male subject involved. I returned to the residence, and she told me that the male subject was Robert Knox. I asked how she knew that this is who had forced entry into her residence, and she told me that she called [REDACTED] and she told her that Robert had broken into her home earlier in the day, also looking for [REDACTED]. She told me that an address that he might be at was [REDACTED] in Orange County. I then made contact with the West Baden Police Chief and we went to that address to attempt to make contact with Robert. I spoke with the homeowner at that residence, and he advised me that Robert no longer lives at that address. Before leaving, I was told to contact Sgt. Soltwedel with Paoli Police Department, as he would have more information on Robert. Sgt. Soltwedel informed me that he had a vehicle pursuit with Robert about a month earlier involving a black Chrysler 300, which matches the vehicle description of the vehicle that [REDACTED] gave me. Sgt. Soltwedel also informed me that Robert's girlfriend was a [REDACTED], who has blonde hair, matching the description that [REDACTED] gave me.

On December 14, 2020, I went back to the residence to speak with [REDACTED]. I asked [REDACTED] if she would participate in a photo line up, to which she agreed to do. I first presented [REDACTED] with five photos of women with blonde hair. [REDACTED] went through the photos and positively identified [REDACTED] as the female that had entered her residence. I then handed her five photos of men with brown hair and a beard. [REDACTED] went through those photos and positively identified Robert Knox as the male subject who forced entry into her residence.

On December 15, 2020, I had a recorded phone interview with [REDACTED]. [REDACTED] told me that [REDACTED] had called her and said that someone had broken into her house with a baseball bat and was driving a black Chrysler 300. She also said that there was a blonde female with the male at the time and that the male had a baseball bat in his hands. She told me that she thought it was Robert because he and the blonde female had just left her house a short time before this phone call took place where Robert had come into her residence unannounced with the blonde female. She told me that the female with Robert at her residence was [REDACTED]. She also told me that Robert would have been looking for [REDACTED] because he thought that [REDACTED] had stolen things from him. [REDACTED] also told me that she believes that it would be likely for Robert to attempt to find [REDACTED] and cause harm to him. [REDACTED] also stated that Robert usually keeps a baseball bat in his car.

I attempted to make contact with Robert and [REDACTED] approximately five times but was unable to make contact with either of them. I also attempted several places to get contact information for [REDACTED] but was unsuccessful in getting any contact information for her.

I affirm, under the penalties of perjury as specified by I.C. 35-44.1-2-1, that the foregoing representations are true.
